INFORMATION DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

Applicant wishes to bring to the attention of the United States Patent and Trademark Office (“the Office”) the information noted on the enclosed forms PTO/SB/08A that may be considered to be material to the examination of the above-identified application.

This information disclosure statement if filed by the applicant after the period specified in 37 C.F.R. § 1.97(c) and before payment of the issue fee and is accompanied by (1) the statement specified in 37 C.F.R. § 1.97(e); and (2) the fee set forth in 37 C.F.R. § 1.17(p).

The documents and information contained in the attached Information Disclosure Statements come from the following sources:

Translation of Poulsom Reference

German patent publication DE 40 13 227 to Poulsom (“Poulsom Reference”) was identified in a prior Information Disclosure Statement. The Poulsom Reference was first cited by the USPTO in a related application and included what appears to be a machine-generated translation of the German text into English. Applicant has obtained an English translation of the German text of the Poulsom reference by TransPerfect Translations, using a human translator. A certified copy of the English language translation of the Poulsom Reference is included herewith.

Litigation involving related applications

In the case styled Anascape, Ltd. v. Microsoft Corp., et al., filed in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas, Lufkin Division (“District Court”) and assigned civil action number 9:06-CV-00158-RC, the plaintiff Anascape, Ltd. (“Anascape”) asserted twelve patents against Microsoft Corporation (“Microsoft”) and Nintendo of America, Inc. (“Nintendo”). Anascape is also the assignee of the above-referenced pending patent application. The defendants were accused by Anascape of infringing twelve issued U.S. patents, which include patents that are related to the above-indicated pending patent application.

Prior to trial, Microsoft settled with Anascape and was removed from the litigation. A trial involving Nintendo took place in May 2008. Only one of the twelve asserted patents - U.S. Patent No. 6,906,700 (“the ‘700 patent”) - was at issue in the trial. Nintendo was found to infringe the ‘700 patent at trial and subsequently filed an appeal with the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (“CAFC”) where the case was restyled as Anascape, Ltd. v. Nintendo of America, Inc., and assigned case number 2008-1500. Copies of documents associated with the District Court case and the parties’ briefing before the CAFC have been identified in prior Information Disclosure Statements. Recently, the CAFC issued its opinion in the Anascape v Nintendo appeal. A copy of the CAFC opinion is submitted herewith for the Examiner’s review.

Reexamination of patents asserted in the Litigation

Nintendo and Microsoft initiated reexamination proceedings individually against the twelve patents asserted in the District Court case identified above. The following table identifies the reexamination serial number and current status of each reexamination. Reexamination-related documents were submitted in prior Information Disclosure Statements. An updated list of documents associated with the reexaminations is included in the Information Disclosure Statements filed herewith. Copies of these documents are not included as they are duplicative of references previously cited and are accessible to the Examiner via the United States Patent and Trademark Office's (USPTO) Patent Application Information Retrieval (PAIR) system.

Pending Related Patent Applications

As noted in previous Information Disclosure Statements, a number of currently pending patent applications are related to the above-identified pending patent application. The following table identifies the serial number for pending related patent applications and gives the current status of each pending related patent application. Documents associated with these related pending applications were submitted in prior Information Disclosure Statements. An updated list of documents associated with these pending applications is included in the Information Disclosure Statements filed herewith. Copies of these documents are not included as they are accessible to the Examiner via the USPTO's PAIR system.

With one exception, these cases are assigned to Examiner William Boddie. Application serial number F30.1, assigned application serial number 11/150,412, is assigned to Examiner Cory Almeida within the same Art Unit.
